Primary use:

Low to Moderate risk, and every-day sitting comfort

Pressure Mate is a cost effective, three inch, every day comfort and protection seat cushion, designed for low to moderate acuity patients at risk from developing pressure injuries, or who need extra comfort and protection in their chair. It can be used in multiple chair types for patients weighing up to 250lbs, and has the same high quality, waterproof, vapor permeable stretch fabric as our higher end Posture-Mate products.

The cushion has been designed with a gel-visco foam rear section, and a supportive front section, to accommodate offloading onto the thighs, and relief of pressure at the ischial and coccyx areas. This also creates slight “dump” in the chair, which can aid in the prevention of slumping and sliding, and promotes better and more comfortable posture, when seated for long periods of time.
